The entire proposal submission should not exceed 750 words for Oral Communication or 500 words for Poster Presentation (author/s, affiliation and references not included), The body of your abstract should be justified text, single-spaced and 12-point Times New Roman with the following structure with bolded subtitles:

Introduction

It should be an explicit summary of your presentation that states the problem, the methods used, and the major results and conclusions. The first part of your abstract should be the Introduction section, where you state the problem you set out to solve or the issue you set out to explore and explain your rationale for pursuing the project. The purpose of your study is to solve this problem and/or add to your discipline's understanding of the issue. This section of the abstract should explain how you went about solving the problem or exploring the issue you identified.

Methods / Methodology

Your abstract should also describe the research methods; this section should include a concise description of the process by which you conducted your research. Also, it should describe the instruments and materials used and a description of the sample, if it is the case.

Results

Besides, your abstract should list the results or outcomes of the work you have done so far. If your project is not yet complete, you may still include preliminary results or your hypotheses about what those results will be.

Conclusions

Finally, your abstract should close with a statement of the project's implications and contributions to its field. It should convince readers that the project is interesting, valuable, and worth investigating further.

References

The References in the abstract would be a minimum of 5 to a maximum of 10 references following the APA 6th Edition or 7th Edition. References should be cited in the text.
